SABICARS · BRAND DIRECTION · FOR THE FOUNDER

Orange and green can carry authority. It depends on how they're used.

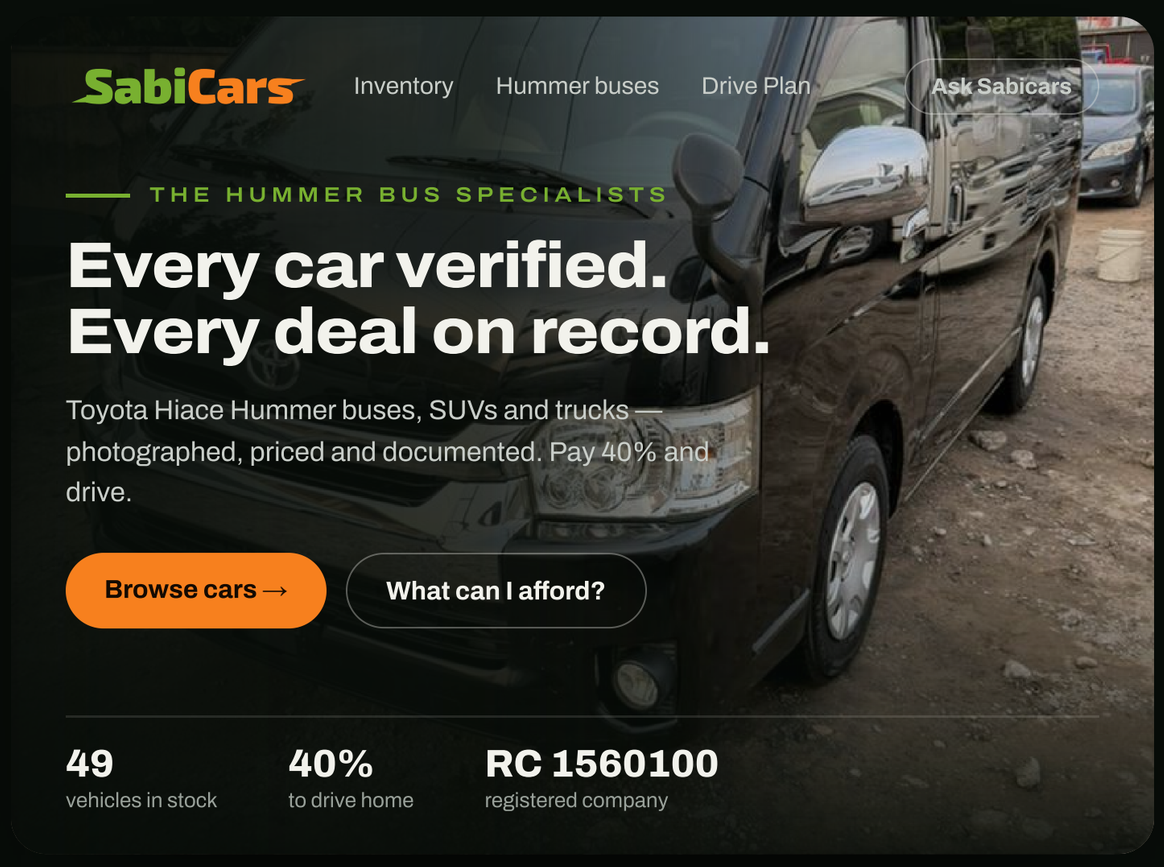

The same two colours power some of the most serious brands in the world — Nvidia's green, McLaren's papaya orange. What makes them authoritative is not the colour: it is a deep base underneath, one colour that leads, and restraint. Below is the same Sabicars, used two ways.

HOW IT LOOKS CHILDISH

Two equally loud brights fighting for attention, big flat blocks of colour, coloured text on white (2.6 : 1 — hard to read), exclamation marks. It reads like a toy shop, not a company that moves ₦40 million buses.

HOW IT CARRIES AUTHORITY

A deep green-black base does the work; the logo glows on it (7.4 : 1). Orange appears once — the button you should press. Green marks trust: the label, a line, "Verified". Calm, confident type. Nothing shouts, so everything is believed.

The palette, and how much of each

Night #080D09
The base. Backgrounds, the showroom sign, the app.

Carbon / Graphite
#101511 · #1F2620 — cards, panels, lines.

Bone #F2F2EC
Text on dark (17 : 1), and the light pages.

Sabi Green #78B030
The signature and trust: the logo's "Sabi", Verified, success.

Sabi Orange #F7801E
The one action colour: Browse, Reserve, Call. Nothing else.

Deep Green / Deep Orange
#558505 · #D45F00 — the logo on white and paper.

In the real world

Showroom and park signage — black panel, lit logo.

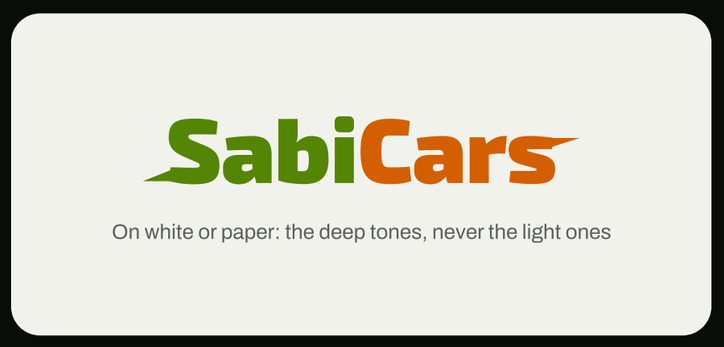

Business card — dark front, Bone back with the deep-tone logo.

A listing — green for trust, orange for the action.

The S mark — app icon and profile picture.

Letterheads, receipts, documents.

The rules. Dark leads; colour accents. Orange only for the action. Green for the brand and for trust. Never put the two side by side as big blocks. On white, use the deep-tone logo. Real photography, calm type, no exclamation marks.

What keeps it premium on every screen and sign.

For the trademark: file the logo in black. A mark registered in black and white covers it in every colour — so tuning the exact shades later, for the site or for print, never means filing again. Register the name SABICARS on its own as well. The logo's shape is final and ready to file today; the colour system above is how it will be used.
